FEDERAL MONEY SHOULD BE AVAILABLE FOR GULF COAST IMPROVEMENTS

Sea Coast Echo Writer Asks That Government Take Over Coast Seawall Bonds and Beach Highway—Asks Aid Of Federal Government.

By W. D. ROBINSON.
(For The Sea Coast Echo)

The Federal Government is planning to appropriate $3,300,000,000 to be expended in the construction of permanent improvements in the several States. The object is to provide employment, to put money in circulation, to aid in business recovery and to give the whole country a lasting benefit therefrom.

Other States are preparing lists of permanent improvements to be submitted to the Federal government for approval. No doubt Mississippi will do likewise.

When Mississippi's list of improvements is prepared it should include the sea wall and beach highway on the Gulf Coast. The government should be urged to put the seawall in first class condition, make it storm proof and build a wide concrete highway adjoining the wall. Federal engineers could easily ascertain the approximate cost.

Unless the seawall is made storm proof, the first tropical hurricane that strikes the coast will wreck a part if not all of it. Damage done to the wall by local storms in recent years has furnished evidence of what would happen if it is not fixed before a tropical hurricane hits the coast line.

Unquestionably much of the damage done to the seawall by local storms was partly due to faulty construction. But there is no use going into that phase of the matter now or attempting to fix the blame. Nothing could be accomplished by it. The serious condition of the wall in many places is known generally. It is up to the people to endeavor to remedy conditions by applying to the Federal government for an allotment of a sufficient amount of permanent improvement funds to make the seawall safe.

Bonds were issued by Harrison, Hancock and Jackson counties to build seawalls. These bonds, with the interest thereon, must be paid. If nothing is done toward making the seawall safe, and it is damaged or destroyed by a hurricane, the bonds and interest still must be paid. There is no escape.

It is suggested that the various official and civic bodies along the coast take steps to have the seawall and beach highway included in the list to be submitted by Mississippi to the Federal government. If this is done, there is every reason to believe that the State authorities will give their support.

In asking for Federal permanent improvement funds, it should be made clear that it is for an amount in addition to what has been allocated to the State for highways should not be disturbed.

The Mississippi Highway Department should be commended for its work in getting $11,500,000 of Federal aid funds allotted to the State for road-building purposes. The Highway Department no doubt will be ready to join with the coast counties in asking for Federal improvement funds to make the seawall safe and to construct a concrete beach highway adjoining the wall.

Hancock county has a concrete highway adjoining its seawall but it is not wide enough. It should be widened and the seawall strengthened where weakness has developed.

Construction of a concrete highway adjoining the seawall for two purposes. It would protect the seawall and, with the existing highway, provide lanes for eastbound and westbound traffic, so that one lane would not interfere with the other. That would greatly reduce the danger of accidents. Traffic on the beach highway is now very heavy. When the new short cut to New Orleans is completed traffic will become congested unless another parallel highway is constructed adjoining the seawall. Another highway is needed for storm protection and to accommodate traffic.

Expenditure of Federal permanent improvement funds on the seawall and highway would be of immense benefit to the whole Gulf Coast area. Not only would the improvement protect the investment in the seawall but it would furnish employment to hundreds of people and virtually end the depression as far as this section of the country is concerned. It would stimulate all branches of business and bring many new people to the coast counties. It does not cost anything to apply for a share of Federal improvement funds. Every official body and every organization on the coast should join in the movement.

CATHOLIC CLERGY HOLD CONFERENCE AT PASS CHRISTIAN

Representatives of South Mississippi Churches Assemble at Home of Rev. Wm. J. Leech.

The quarterly conference of the Catholic clergy of the Mississippi Coast was held at the residence of Rev. Wm. J. Leech at Pass Christian on Wednesday. Rev. Peter Keenan, Biloxi, presided as senior priest. A very excellent paper on the causes of the Reformation was read by the Very Rev. Fr. Hager, C. M., of Long Beach. Rev. Father MacGladie of Biloxi submitted a treatise on Baptism which was a thorough and exhaustive study.

The history of St. Michael's parish in East Biloxi was detailed by Rev. Father Hildebrandt. That parish owes its existence to the enterprising zeal of the Very Rev. Hubert Spengler, who had the first school and church erected there. Rev. Nelius Downing was the first pastor. This conference was attended by almost all the priests in south Mississippi.

LEVINE'S STORE HAS BIG FIRE

Loss and Damage to Stock And Interior Estimated at Over Five Thousand Dollars

Levine's "Economy Store," located in the Levine Bldg., on Railroad avenue was gutted about the mid-night hour Wednesday when fire of unknown origin caused a damage both to interior of building and stock of dry goods, clothing, shoes, etc.

"How the fire originated," said Mr. Levine Thursday morning, "no one seems to know. It is a mystery. The row of stores in this business section have been robbed periodically. Practically every ninety days my store or some other place of business nearby is robbed and the burglars are never apprehended."

"My only theory is that someone might have again robbed my store and set fire to cover the robbery or their tracks."

Mr. Levine stated that his loss was easily from five to six thousand dollars as his stock inventoried only recently twice and more than that amount. Very little may be salvaged.

About twenty-five per cent of the loss was covered, he stated. His insurance was carried with the Hancock County Insurance Agency.

When asked if he planned to reopen his business he replied he would immediately set to work toward that end. As soon as insurance adjustment had been made he would have the interior of the building replaced and a new stock would be placed and business would continue as usual. "We have a fair business in Bay St. Louis," he said, "and there is no reason why we should not continue."

Mrs. Lena D. Stockstill, In Charge, Brings Successful Term to Close.

The "Variety Program" presented by the pupils of Taylor School, May 10, was a success, if we are to judge by the applause from a large audience. The teacher and the P. T. A. are very gratified at the success for it netted the sum of $18.00 for the treasury.

The entertainment consisted of songs, plays and readings with the closing number "The Mother Goose Carnival, in which all pupils took part. The songs in this play were especially good.

The splendid "Dance and Song" by Mark Solomon and Doris Mae Randolph were well received and their encore was two popular songs of the day.

Especially mention must be made of the dramatization of "The Sick Doll." Velma Fayard playing mother, Alma Sick, Red Cross Nurse and James Kimfel as Dr. Tom. These children were very fine and received loud applause.

"The Kindergarten Band" gave four members with Mrs. Backman at the piano.

One gold medal for perfect attendance and the highest grade made in the second grade was awarded to Celeste Byrd. This medal was donated by Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Moveau.

A medal for the best average in the first grade was awarded Velma Fayard. This medal was donated by Mrs. W. W. Stockstill.

These beautiful gold medals were very much appreciated by the children and in their behalf the school wishes to thank friends who so generously made these awards possible.

A very successful year's work has just closed and plans for next term have already been made—especially in the way of entertainment and we are fortunate in having the hearty cooperation of the community.

Mr. Wm. Sick with his hand rendered valuable assistance in entertaining during the intermission. We wish to thank him for this help and all others of our friends who by their cooperation made possible the success of this undertaking.

On Friday afternoon May 19, at 2 o'clock friends and patrons of the school assembled for the closing exercises. After a short program by the school, Dr. Evans presented the medals as follows:

FOREST CAMP FOR HANCOCK

To Be One of Two Camps to Be Located in Mississippi, Says State Forester.

It has been rumored locally for some time that it was most probable Hancock county would be selected as one of the reforestation camps to be established in Mississippi. It has been hinted that this camp would be located in the Kiln district of the county, but of this there is nothing authentic as yet. The camp may be located in the Logtown sector or anywhere within the bounds of Hancock that matter as far as the benefits to accrue is concerned. The work of reforestation will be carried out over the entire cut-over and pine-belt of this section, it is said.

An Associated Press special from Jackson this week gives information that State Forester Fred Merrill has announced he would meet Major Chipman of Pensacola, Fla., in South Mississippi Sunday to select definite sites for Mississippi's two forestry camps allotted the State under federal conservation program.

One of the camps will be located in Hancock county and the other in Stone. Merrill said the forestry department already has selected several tentative sites, which will be inspected by Major Chipman.

As quickly as the locations are agreed upon, information regarding them will be forwarded to Washington for approval, Merrill said. He added that announcement of the two sites probably will be made the latter part of next week.

POPPY DAY TO-MORROW SAT. MAY 27

Day Designated to Wear a Poppy to Honor Memory Of the Dead

All World War veterans of Bay St. Louis were urged to pay honor to their fallen comrades by wearing a memorial Poppy on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 27, in a message issued today by W. B. Graham, Commander of the Clement R. Bontemps Post of the American Legion. Commander Graham declared that the wearing of the poppy is the individual way to show remembrance for the war dead and devotion to the ideals for which they gave their lives. The message stated:

"On Saturday, May 27, America will pay its annual tribute to the men who gave their lives in defense of the country in 1917 and 1918 by wearing the memorial poppy. I am sure that every World War veteran and all other patriotic citizens of Bay St. Louis will wear this token of remembrance on that day. Wearing the poppy means that we have not forgotten our comrades who fell amid the poppies of France and that we are carrying on for America in their spirit."

"The poppies will be offered on the streets here by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary, our wives, mothers, sisters and daughters. They have volunteered for this work, giving their services without thought of personal gain. Disabled veterans have made the poppies which they will distribute, and the contributions they will receive will go entirely to the relief of needy veterans and veterans' families. Be sure not only to wear a poppy on Poppy Day, but be sure to wear an American Legion and American Auxiliary poppy."

crystal and silver—and the cake was indeed a work of art. It was a large chocolate layer cake and the decoration was S. M. C. 1926 to 1933, in yellow icing. Notes of music covered the edge of the cake. These were in yellow also and the contrast of the brown and yellow was very effective. This cake was made by Miss Evelyn Lacoste and decorated by Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Sr.

The members were very enthusiastic about the work for next year as we have made some very elaborate plans for our new-year book, which will be completed for our first meeting in September.

We are inviting quite a number of persons with musical talent to become members.

CONTROL OF INDUSTRY APPROVED.

THE general tendency of the Administration program toward the control of industry is now meeting with favorable reception. The fact that most industries endangered by vicious practices of price-cutting and unscrupulous competition, are to accept government supervision, coupled with some leniency of operation not heretofore permitted under the anti-trust laws.

The justification of such a policy lies in the beliefs that the elimination of unnecessary and unfair strife between the members of an industry will permit the improvement of working conditions and wages. Both of these will inevitably contribute to the welfare of the country along economic and social lines.

The acquiescence of the public in some lifting of anti-trust regulations which have been designed largely to avoid monopolies and unfair practices toward the buying public, is explained in the general belief that government control will be adequate to prevent these evils.

Moreover, it is a foregone conclusion, accepted by industry, that if such cooperation is allowed to competing firms, that control of profits must necessarily and inevitably follow. Expressed in another way, the government apparently plans to do for basic industries what has been done for certain public utility organizations—make them subject to regulations designed for the public good, allow a fair profit and keep a rigid control to prevent excess and unjust prices.

ADVERTISING STANDARDS IMPROVE

ADVERTISING and selling standards throughout the country have been materially improved, according to those who keep up with the acceptance and use of the best advertising methods. However, numerous methods to exploit the public are being actively used, including so-called chain-selling schemes, fake charity solicitations and misrepresentations in connection with the sale of merchandise.

While Bay St. Louis has been fortunate in that most of its advertisers are of the better type, it sometimes happens that promoters of doubtful schemes victimize some of our citizens. Most of the fraud, one must admit, occurs in private transactions and few of the promoters use newspaper advertising to proclaim the alleged virtues of what they sell. This is due to the fact that the advertisements printed in a reputable newspaper or magazine are subject to check-ups and are seen by many people. Rather than adopt such an open statement of their claims, the promoters of these fake schemes rely largely upon the power of persuasion as applied to the individual in a personal conference.

WEAR HIS FLOWER.

HIS fixed bayonet was pointed toward the enemy. His steel helmet was tilted down over determined eyes. An unseen machine gun sprayed his path with death, but he went on for America.

In a poppy-studded wheat field he fell. They buried him after the wave of battle had swept by, and poppies sprang up around his grave. His victorious comrades, returning to America, brought memories and the poppy.

On Saturday, May 27, the men of the American Legion will ask us to wear a poppy. The women of the American Legion Auxiliary will offer us poppies on the streets and will give us an opportunity to aid the war disabled, the widows, and the fatherless children. Can there be a person in Bay St. Louis in whom the pulse of patriotism beats so low that he will refuse? He who can so soon forget the patriotic sacrifices of the past is a person from whom friends, community and country can expect little of unselfish service today or in the future.

PLANES AND WAR IN THE EAST.

NEWS from the Far East, such as it is, seems to indicate that the Japanese are using airplanes very effectively against the defenseless Chinese cities.

This is quite different from using the same planes against a nation that can fight in the air. Incidentally, the news from Washington is that the United States may include in its construction program the building of a fleet of airplanes. There may be a connection between the two items.

Smedley Butler, the talkative ex-marine, is predicting war between this country and either Japan, or Russia. He says that these two nations will eventually fight, that our munition makers will try to sell both, and that the government will be asked to protect the trade, which will inevitably cause our entry into the warfare.

MEAN'S ABSURD STORY.

WE wouldn't advise anybody to worry very much over the "revelations" recently made by Gaston M. Means, in his trial at Washington. What he says about the Lindbergh baby is the story told by a man now under sentence for getting a huge sum of money from a susceptible woman and who has been convicted before.

Means, if his story is true, should have come forward beforehand. To wait until he is placed on the stand in his own defense and then tell such an astounding yarn is to make reasonably certain the public verdict that he is not to be trusted.

OF MOMENT AND OF INTEREST.

NO such small amount as the cost of a little paint would constitute more value to the individual property owner and contribute more to the betterment of Bay St. Louis.

Now is the accepted time to paint. A little of it goes a far way. A well-kept yard, a painted house is evidence that "somebody" lives there. A dwelling in need of paint carrying a "for rent" or "for sale" sign is not only a poor advertisement for the community but invariably is the kind of house that neither rents or sells.

VISITORS to Bay St. Louis are always impressed with the number of churches and schools of our community. Perhaps no town of the size in the State has as many. It is an index of meaning, character, culture and unflinching mark of high civilization.

It is well to realize these things. Too frequently we who live here fail to sufficiently appreciate such potential elements that go to make Bay St. Louis the place where one is fond of living.

Our schools are affiliated with the outer world and a boy or girl who finishes locally may attend classes of higher learning elsewhere.

BOTH our county of Hancock and city of Bay St. Louis have given example of instances that stand for city beautification. A visit to the courthouse grounds proves this interest in the truest sense. Well-kept lawns that set like carpet of ingratiating green are bordered with hundreds of plants blooming in riotous color and beauty.

Likewise the city hall premises in Second street gives evidence of same care and attention. A manifestation of progressiveness and spirit that should pervade the city. Our school lawns and shrubs enhance the various ornate buildings about the city, all phases of public example that should behoove one and all to follow.

"SAVE THE SURFACE"

A RESIDENT addresses a communication to the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce that is worthy of notice. The writer calls attention to the fact there are many loose boards in the construction of the Bay auto bridge; that rattle at the instance every time a car passes and it is apparent that the surface of the bridge is not only wearing but becoming splintered from daily wear and tear.

This bridge represents an outlay of three quarters of a million dollars. Federal funds paid for half while Harrison and Hancock counties paid their proportionate share. Bonds were issued to realize necessary funds. To meet payment as they mature and interest as well our people are subject to an ad valorem tax. This is a tax on everybody's home; this is one of the reasons why our taxes are high. Of course it is worth it.

But makes it all the reason more why the bridge surface should be protected from further encroachment of rapid deterioration. The writer to the Chamber of Commerce says the State Highway Department should take the matter in time and arrest further damage. That it should be surfaced with some topping of asphaltum or another, believing in the old adage that a stitch in time saves nine.

So important is the matter and imperative the demand that something be done in the premises that the subject has been referred to the authorities of the State Highway Department through the instrumentality of Commissioner Thames, who has ever proven a friend of his section, and a copy of the letter from the individual to the Chamber of Commerce, it is planned, to be sent to every chamber of commerce along the Coast.

The subject is important and calls for immediate attention.

THERE SHOULD BE NO DROWNINGS THIS SUMMER.

BAY ST. LOUIS Chamber of Commerce calls attention to the public of a timely subject and issues a warning that none should fail to heed.

This is the season when one hardly picks up a newspaper and fails to read of fatalities as a result of people who visit the waters and heed not danger signs. Others venture forth thoughtlessly and pay the supreme penalty for their folly.

The warning from the Chamber of Commerce is addressed principally to people who bathe in the waters of the gulf coast. Thousands visit this section annually and either go beyond their depth or fail to exercise common judgment. Each and every summer seemingly exacts its toll. There is no true reason for this. Such fatalities could be avoided.

Those who live here should help to prevent accidents by warning, personal cautioning and in any and all ways to prevent the recurrence of what happens every summer.

It is a black eye for the Coast. A poor advertisement for this section. People recoil in horror from a place where death stalks and are reluctant to visit. They gain this impression and live it unconsciously. But, above all, the Chamber of Commerce, wishes to at least save a life. This is worthy of emulation. Let the individual do likewise.

ARE YOU ON A SUCKER LIST.

"RACKETEERS of the financial world are apparently testing out their sucker list and are laying their plans once more to victimize the public," according to a report of the Better Business Bureau, of New York City, which warns that security charlatans are losing no time in taking advantage of the fact that the public is once more becoming "investment conscious."

It is pointed out that the return of legal beer has given great impetus to the flotation of stock for breweries, including many with little chance of successful operation and others whose shares are being sold by downright misrepresentations. However, the Federal Securities Acts are expected to have much value in protecting the public against some of the snares laid by the shrewd sellers of worthless and doubtful securities.

SAUNTERINGS From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS
(For the Sea Coast Echo)

LIKE Rip Van Winkle, awakening after 13 slumbering years, Legal 3.2 beer enjoyed a brief, premature 'come back' in San Antonio, lasting from Thursday until Sunday.

This amber fluid was jolted from the clutches of Morpheus by public announcement that federal licenses for sale of 3.2 beer in Texas were being issued by the Department of Internal Revenue at Austin, the Capital. Word spread like wild fire.

Hotel owners, restaurant managers, druggists, and other business men made flying trips to Austin. Triumphant they returned with legal certificates issued by the United States government, specifically classifying the holder as a Retail Dealer in Fermented Liquor.

But, even as these internal revenue permits were being issued, there were conflicting interpretations concerning their validity in Texas, wherein the sale of 3.2 beer has not yet been legalized.

United States District Attorney, John D. Hartman crossed swords with James W. Bass, internal revenue collector for this district. Contradicting statements were made to newspapers. Each charging the other with having the wrong slant on the matter. The sale of federal permits continued.

The four day, unmolested reign of Legal 3.2 beer ended in San Antonio on Sunday night. Federal prohibition agents swooped into action, raided several places selling beer, and confiscated the supply on hand. No arrests were made at the time, however. The citizenry is a bit shell shocked from the high pressure aspect of the entire affair from beginning to end. No one seems to realize what it is all about.

THIRSTY San Antonians whooped with joy, dazzled by the sudden drastic reaction toward the state's unpopular prohibitive Dean law. They took for granted that 3.2 Legal beer had won a battle over HOME BREW. (Then, and now, being sold in San Antonio without license.) Highways leading to Louisiana hummed with trucks, speeding for beer to supply an overwhelming demand created in this city.

A holiday spirit prevailed everywhere as word of a new born liberty passed from mouth to mouth. Prices of the amber fluid ranged from 25 cents to 35 cents a bottle. Ample supply seemed always within reach, although retail dealers were reluctant to divulge the source, or wholesale price of the Louisiana beer delivered in San Antonio.

No attempt was made to cloak the identity of the foaming bottle, or the fact it was offered for sale. Jax, Old Union, and Dixie beer from New Orleans breweries flooded the city in record time. Show cases and restaurants counters proudly displayed the bottled brew. One downtown druggist advertised beer for sale in box car lettering on his show windows.

CUSTOMERS eagerly sought the labels as souvenirs. Many were pasted on automobile windshields—as symbols of personal liberty. Those not already initiated to the taste of Louisiana 3.2 beer were anxious to test its potency. Many claimed the beer was a bit too "green." The majority seemed satisfied with everything—except the high price of this thirst quencher from a wet sister state. Keg beer on tap was offered for sale in several places over town. One drive-in place is rumored to have sold 200 cases of bottled goods in one day. Police reports showed fewer cases of drunks arrested during the 'beer holidays' than heretofore.

F EATHERS ruffled, and clucking madly, the San Antonio W. C. T. U. organization addressed a petition to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, protesting the government's action in issuing beer sale permits in Texas. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson refused the request of militant drags that state rangers be sent to San Antonio to halt the sale of beer. The local district attorney, sheriff, and police assumed a "hear no evil, see no evil, and speak no evil" attitude in the matter. Things were popping fast and furiously while the fun lasted.

The eyes of other still dry states are being focused on Texas. Here, an interesting situation is in the brewing. startling developments may be uncovered from a complicated problem involving state and federal government. "Jim" Ferguson, husband and legal advisor to Texas' governor, publicly stated his idea to release all violators of the State's Dean Law (prohibition statute) now in penitentiary, having already served a 30-day term.

THE wags are telling one on a San Antonio citizen. He was seen before a hotel that allegedly sold 3.2 beer. Under his arm he carried a small dog. This hotel listed near at 25 cents. No drunks were served without an accompanying sandwich. This set the patron

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

By R. H. BRYSON,
(County Agent)

FARMING in its true sense is a dignified science—it is a great deal more than merely plowing the soil and gathering crops. It is true farm crops have been on a low limb for the past three years. There have been but few crops to return a profit, but the vocation is not based on one, two or three years operation. The foundation for successful farming must be based on livestock and crops from the soil. Livestock to be profitable must be of good quality, whether dairy or beef type, in fact, it must be considerably better than just good. Buyers, today, are looking for superior quality—just ordinary, or average is too plentiful, consequently the low price.

Extra quality beef cattle cannot be produced on common sedge grass—no more so than a cross-road blacksmith can turn-out a first-class automobile. Grasses of quality must form the foundation. If this were not true why then during the past 400 years haven't animals, having had free run of the range, topped the market. This is a period of discriminating buyers. They are willing to pay the price if the quality is there.

Carpet grass and Lespedeza are plants far superior in food value over the old native grasses, not only superior in food nutrition, but furnishes grazing over a longer period of time, and has about ten times the carrying capacity of the native grasses, and, too, these plants, in addition to furnishing better grazing, increased soil fertility and with increased soil fertility still better grazing is produced.

Sale of crops from the soil is measured with the same scale—Poor soil means poor crops. Beware of the man who says he has "worn-out one or two farms." It is quite possible he has, but it is nothing, in his credit. Soil handled in the right way becomes more productive each year. Mother Nature has given us plants which have the capacity to gather nitrogen from the air. Nitrogen is our most expensive fertilizer if purchased in the commercial form, and the scientific farmer makes use of every opportunity to gather all the nitrogen possible by growing legumes on all ground at least once during each season.

Farmers who haven't legume crops growing on their lands at this time are letting an opportunity slip. It has been said, "Opportunity knocks once at every man's door—bad luck is not so particular."

Strawberry growers who expect to produce a crop of strawberries next season should grow all the fertilizer they can. Now is the time to make next season's crop of berries by planting the ground to legume crops such as soy beans, Iron or Brabham peas, or Crotalaria to be plowed under this fall. These crops, in addition to the nitrogen gathered from the air, add humus, a very necessary element for successful berry production. Growers who followed such a program last season also using commercial fertilizer not only produced a larger crop, but produced it at much less expense than the man who used commercial fertilizer alone.

Mr. Geo. M. Foot, field inspector in this district for the Crop Production Loan Office, with headquarters in Memphis, states that the work of making the loan is practically over. He calls attention to the fact that this loan was made pursuant to an Act of Congress that authorized the Secretary to prepare rules and regulations setting forth the terms and

BAY ST. LOUIS VISITOR FROM COLON SELECTED DELEGATE TO PARIS

Mrs. Henry De Jan Will Go From Colon to France in July for Welfare Conference

Mrs. De Jan, subject of the article below, residing at Colon, Panama, is a frequent visitor to Bay St. Louis and is locally known. She is to be complimented on her success. She is a daughter of Mrs. Raymond, residing at the Answer, Union street, and is the mother of Jack and Bob McGrath, both resident students at St. Stanislaus college.

COLON, May 8.—Mrs. Henry De Jan, president of the Colon Chapter of the National Red Cross has been appointed to serve as Panama's delegate to the International Child's Welfare Congress to be held in Paris next July. This decision was taken at an executive meeting of the organization held last Tuesday and presided by Mrs. Hermodio Arias, wife of the President Arias, who is president of Panama's Red Cross and one of its most active and devoted members.

Mrs. De Jan was selected for this honor not only because she plans to be in Europe next summer but because of her manifold qualifications which include many years of devotion to the cause of child welfare and other branches of social services.

The congress will be held from July 4 to July 9, and will include in its varied program lectures by leading doctors and teachers of the world. Paul Strauss, senator from the Department of the Seine, former Minister of Hygiene and a member of the French Academy of Medicine will be the honorary president and the congress will be presided by Doctor Mauriquand, Professor of the infant Hygiene Clinic of Paris.

Subjects which will be studied and which will form the topics of lectures by the world's leading authorities on child welfare will include methods of decreasing the infant mortality rate the world over, prenatal hygiene and training of mothers in relation to diet, care, education of young children; child dietetics; visiting nurses and the circulation of propaganda pertaining to the subjects mentioned.

Mrs. De Jan is considered peculiarly fitted for the representation of Panama at the Paris Congress. Her knowledge of French learned as a child from parents who trace their lineage to the earliest and most distinguished French colonists in New Orleans, will be of inestimable value. Her earliest ancestor in the United States was Du Tissenet who came to Louisiana with Bienville. She is a member of the Louisiana Colonials and the National Society of the Daughters of 1812.

Living in Panama since her early youth she has acquired a fluent knowledge of Spanish also and has been actively connected with many movements directed toward child welfare and philanthropic ends. She was president of the Canal Zone Chapter of the Pan-American Federation of Women at the time of the Bolivarian Congress in 1926 at which time her executive ability and knowledge of local conditions brought her to the forefront of the proceedings conducted by the feminine delegates.

Succeeding Mrs. J. J. Henriquez as president of the Colon Chapter of the National Red Cross, Mrs. De Jan has been constantly active in promoting methods of continuing the work of the chapter during the recent months of depression and is at present engaged in organizing a benefit on a broad scale which promises to be an unprecedented success.

In addition to the unlimited energy and marked executive ability she possesses rare charm of manner, tact and a gift of persuasion which enlist the sympathies of all in assisting the particular good cause for which she may be working. She is the kind of person who gets things done and makes people like doing them.

This was recently demonstrated in her manner of handling a certain government official whom she learned did not quite approve of her plan for promoting a certain benefit performance. Mrs. De Jan immediately repaired to the office of the gentleman in question and told her plans. His disapproval faded like dust before her cool, fresh rain. When she left his presence it was with his promise that he would act as her special publicity agent and that she could count on his cooperation in all things.

The only regrettable feature about Mrs. De Jan's departure on her approaching mission is that she will be forced to resign the presidency of the local Red Cross chapter to which she has lent such lustre.

conditions on which such loans would be made.

One of the first requirements was that all borrowers less than required to reduce their cash crop acreage 50 per cent less than such crops grown by them in 1932 (except that such reduction would not go beyond a certain minimum number of acres, which was eight acres with respect to cotton).

Mr. Geo. M. Foot, the field inspector in this territory, tells us now that the pressure of his work in connection with making the loans is considerably less than it was, that he is devoting his time in traveling his territory in order to see whether or not the borrowers are making the reduction to which they agreed.

TEAM OF DUNN EILERS IS SWELL IN NEW FOX FILM

Add to Past Successes by Their Vividness in "Sailor's Luck," Directed By Raoul Walsh.

In "Sailor's Luck" the new Fox film at the A. & G., Sunday and Monday, James Dunn and Sally Eilers prove once again that they are the most vivid romantic team on the screen. The promise they gave in "Bad Girl," the picture that lifted them both to the cinematic skies is fulfilled in generous measure by their joint performance in "Sailor's Luck."

Dunn plays the role of a happy-go-lucky fellow, always ready to fight but always naive in the ways of the world. Sally Eilers, as the girl who is responsible for it all, is the perfect foil. They meet quite accidentally, as is usually the case with a girl and a fellow, and from then on the action is hectic and hilarious.

The theme of "Sailor's Luck" and the pace with which it has been produced make it an exhilarating film. Dunn and Miss Eilers are two of the screen's most natural actors. Sammy Cohen, whom everyone must fondly remember as the comedian of "What Price Glory," plays the principal comic role. And here's a comedian who is really funny!

Raoul Walsh, the guiding genius of both "What Price Glory" and "The Cock Eyed World" has directed "Sailor's Luck" with the sure touch of a man who knows comedy when he sees it. The story and screen play were written by Marguerite Roberts and Charlotte Miller.

COPY OF RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE CLEMENT R. BONTemps POST NO. 139 OF THE AMERICAN LEGION, BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS.

Whereas, the people of the United States and of the State of Mississippi, by their vote in the last presidential election, have conclusively shown their dissatisfaction with prohibition; And whereas the Congress of the United States has shown a desire to comply with the will of the people by passing the act to repeal the prohibition amendment and the bill legalizing beer and light wines;

And whereas we believe that the people of the State of Mississippi, by a large majority, desire to have beer and light wines as permitted by the present act of Congress;

And whereas we are satisfied that such beer and light wines will in no way be detrimental to the welfare of the people of the State of Mississippi, but on the contrary will be beneficial in many ways;

Therefore be it Resolved by the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, The American Legion, in meeting duly assembled, that we hereby unanimously approve of legislation to legalize beer and light wines, as permitted by the Federal law, and earnestly petition the Governor of the State and the members of the State Legislature, to expeditiously pass such legislation as may be necessary to permit the sale of such beer and light wines in the State of Mississippi.

Be it further Resolved that copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the Governor and State Legislature, and to the press.

We have only one life to live. Why waste the time away. Don't worry about the future. Make the best of today.

Man's allotted life, they say, Is three score years and ten, So take today and make it— The best there's ever been.

MISS L. C. DEL BONDIO'S FISHING PARTY TO GULF WATERS AND ISLANDS

Five-Day Trip to Gulf Waters and Islands of Mississippi Sound—Record Catch of Blue Fish—Sunrise on the Gulf and Moonlight on the Water.

MISS L. C. Del Bondio, Coast resident whose beautiful and hospitable home, "Blue Heaven," on Pass Christian Beach, is ever the scene of delightful gatherings; and where friends call and enjoy the hospitality of both Miss Del Bondio and Miss Marie E. Bertrand, was hostess last week to another of the delightful boat and fishing parties for which she is well known.

The commodious and reliable boat, "Lillian Parker," of Biloxi, Captain W. O. Parker owner and in charge, left its mooring Sunday morning and at once turned to the direction of Gulf waters for a five-day trip, returning at a late hour Thursday evening, landing all safely and after a most delightful trip in every particular.

Points visited were Point Comfort, Britton Island, Free Mason Key, Chandeleeur Islands and Goose Point, a place for each day. An advantage, in order that touch may be maintained with the mainland, was that telephone communication was available at each lighthouse out in the sound and gulf waters.

Enjoying Miss Del Bondio's hospitality assisted by Miss Bertrand were Miss Hazel Abbley, Messrs. Frank Wittmann, George Cronovich, H. H. Hanson, Jean Roberts, Randall Wittmann, a party of eight and the captain, whose personal solicitation added largely to the success of the outing.

The absence of Miss Jane Lang was keenly felt. Miss Lang is always a member of Miss Del Bondio's cruises and the one regret was her absence, precluded from going by matters demanding her attention on shore.

"We have had several trips on the sound and gulf waters," Miss Del Bondio said, telling of the event, "but this one exceeded all in every way. We went out to Britton Island, where we had never visited, a distance in all from mainland of 65 miles. Weather was ideal and toward the morning hours before dawn the silver of the moon made the water appear as one mass of molten silver.

"After the first rays of dawn, followed glorious sunrise. A sight of beauty one never forgets."

"Did you ever see a sunrise at sea?" she queried of the writer. "Well, if you never, sunrise on the gulf is the equal."

How was fishing, asked the interested writer. "All and more one could desire," was the reply. "We carried back 150 pounds of big fish and due to lack of ice we were forced to give back to the waters 48 pounds. "Our record of blue fish catch was said to exceed all well-known catches. So plentiful were their number that Mr. Hanson hooked two at one time and with one minnow. Captain Parker and others on board said our prolific catch of blue fish broke all known record."

Blue fish is a moderately large-sized fish, quite a delicacy and ranks with Spanish mackerel. Attractive in its beauty of blue color gray, it is meaty and quite edible, truly a delicacy.

Then the party caught amply of large trout (speckled) and rock bass, in addition to a variety of other denizens of deep water. Trawling for shrimp for bait was a pleasure. One throw of the net resulted in abundant supply, more than was necessary for the time being. The trawl would also bring up large crabs, the kind with the large and bright colored blue claws, clean and bright looking.

With plenty of provender, a good cook and appetites whetted by the salt air, gulf breezes, the party did justice to meals and the sandwiches and other things good to eat served between regular meal time.

"The various islands of the gulf group are interesting," continued Miss Del Bondio. "One realizes how much beauty and things of interest exists outside of the shore line and beyond the horizon that one gazes upon from shore in wistful wonderment. Pelicans and seagulls abound here in numberless clouds. To walk along the sea strands it is necessary to make one's way first. Birds of the sea flock in great clouds. The nest of the pelican, strange as it appears only carries three eggs. We

Waveland, Miss.

HATS OFF TO WAVELAND SCHOOL.

Waveland School closed for the summer, May 24, with a record that any town school should be proud of. Under the able and efficient management of its Board of Trustees, and with the co-operation of the Mayor and board of aldermen, the school fund, has been kept segregated from the general fund, with the result that all teachers' and janitors have been paid promptly, every month, with honest to goodness money and none of your Mickey McGuire paper.

During this entire period of depression when teachers and other employees of the State and Nation have not been paid for months, our town of Waveland carried on and we have come through with out borrowing or anticipating 1933 taxes. The Hon. W. A. Mapp, Mayor and President of the board during the closing exercises gave a graphic resume of the work accomplished by the Board and P. T. A. during past year.

The taxpayers and citizens can truly boast and we want the world to know it; that Waveland has set a mark for larger towns and cities to follow. Hats off to our Town officials. Now watch us go.

The N. C. C. W. of Women will hold their regular monthly meeting May 28, at 3 P. M. St. Joseph Hall, Bay St. Louis.

Catherine Chadwick gave a complimentary party to her co-graduates and friends, at her parents home in Jeff Davis avenue, which was largely attended.
